

Walking Blood Bank Organized By Dr. Moore

One of the most vital emergency needs of the community is a system of obtaining the correct type of blood quickly for a transfusion. Dr. Dudley Moore, Jr., has the answer to this problem in communities too small to afford an expensive blood bank.

The system is called a walking blood bank and is worked out by typing the blood of a large number of individuals in the community. A record of their blood types are kept on file and when a transfusion is needed a person of that particular blood type is contacted for an immediate transfusion.

Dr. Moore explained that the boys of National Guard Company F were typed Tuesday night at their regular weekly meeting. He went on to explain that if the system is to function properly, those who have their blood typed will have to come immediately when called for a transfusion. It was also pointed out that a large number of people would be required to have their blood type on file for the desired efficiency of the blood bank.

T. A. Black Buys Three Buildings On Public Square

T. A. Black has bought three buildings on the public square. He states that he hopes to continue doing business in his present location at the northeast corner of the square and bought the three locations as an investment.

His first purchase was the McBroom building on the south side, now occupied by the Beard Insurance Agency.

During the past week he bought the telephone building at the southeast corner of the square and the Wirt Electric building on the east side.

The lower floor of the telephone building is occupied by the Household Appliance Co., owned by Herschel Jennings. This firm will continue to use this location until January 1, 1952. The phone company will continue in the location until the new building is erected by the dial system in 1954. This was the first brick building erected in Canyon, as the first National Bank location. Trees on the west side of the building have been removed, and the building will be repainted.

Lorenzo Wirt has taken a three year lease on the building which he formerly owned and in which his electric business was located.

A. A. U. W. Receives U. N. Cook Books

The American Association of University Women has just received three hundred copies of the recently published United Nations Cook Book, which they plan to sell. Proceeds of the sale are to benefit the A. A. U. W.'s scholarship fund, which has been given in two recent years to a Latin American college student.

The book, entitled "The World's Favorite Recipes," contains over a hundred recipes from the United Nations, tested by members of the American Home Economics Association. Recipes have been adapted to American cooking methods, and when they call for ingredients which are hard to find, the editors have given substitutes that may be found in American stores.

The book sells for $1.00, and may be obtained from Mrs. Joseph Findley or Mrs. Ples Harper.

Museum Praised by Wyoming Visitor

Because Boone McClure can go around with his chest thrown out a long way, other people of this vicinity can go around with a certain amount of pride also. The incident that invoked this proud atmosphere took place down at the Panhandle-Plains Museum.

It happened like this. Mary Elizabeth Cody of Cheyenne, Wyoming came into the museum to look the place over. She had been sent by the state museum at Cheyenne to inspect other museums over the Southwest. She related that every place she went people told her of the museum here in Canyon. Several conferences were held and minute notes were taken upon the way the museum is arranged. She even took notes upon the kinds of material used in preparing backdrops for items exhibited and asked about the origin of ideas for arrangement and display. All this interest in the arrangement of the museum was a great compliment to Mr. McClure.

This was not the only time when a person traveled a great distance to study the museum. About a year ago there was a man here from Nebraska. The fellow had visited Governor Allan Shivers and the governor had recommended that he see the museum. The fact that the executive head of the state recommended the museum, especially when there is a larger museum right in Austin, was no small compliment in itself. Although the museum in Austin has a larger building, the museum itself does not have as many displays as the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum here.

At present the museum here enjoys a reputation of being the best museum in the west. Since the first of the year the museum has had more than 62,000 visitors. Every state has been represented and many foreign countries. About the only two museums that give it competition are located in Los Angeles, California, and Atlanta, Georgia. When the work that is in progress on the upper story is completed the museum will be the largest in the South.

Last Sunday there were visitors from 34 states registered at the museum. During the day there were more than 700 visitors looking over the museum displays.

It is nice to know that a good job has been done. Boone McClure and all the others who have taken a part in the building and arranging the displays in the museum have every right to feel proud.

Local Lady Enjoys Having The News Read to Her Weekly

Miss Hanna Robinson, 1906 Third Avenue, counts as one of her A-1 delights hearing The Canyon News read to her every Thursday. Miss Robinson says that in her opinion there is not a better newspaper in the world than The Canyon News.

She especially enjoys the Way-side items and church news. While totally blind, Miss Robinson enjoys receiving cards and telephone messages together with visits from her friends. The Woman's Wesley Bible Class of the Methodist church often remembers her in her home.

Buff Grill Broken Into and Robbed Thursday a. m.

The Buff Grill was broken into and $30.00 or $40.00 was taken last Thursday morning. The chief of police was called as soon as it was discovered that the place had been robbed.

The break-in is alleged to have occurred between 2:30 a. m. and 5:30 a. m. Thursday. Chief of Police John King was parked in front of the building when Carl Middleton locked up at 2:30 and left for home. King did not patrol the area again until 5:30 a. m.

King and Sheriff Cantrell are both working on the case. The money is all that was taken. None of the fixtures were broken or disturbed. Entrance was made through a small rear window. Prominent clues were found to immediately point a finger of suspicion to several suspects who are being watched, but to date no arrests have been made.

Holsteins of Hales Grand Champs at Dallas State Fair

The grand championship Holstein of the Dallas State Fair again comes to Randall county.

H. E. Hales exhibited several of his Holstein cattle at the Fair and came back home with the grand championship. Winning such prizes is not uncommon for the Hales herd, and when Mr. Hales shows his cattle tough competition is expected from other exhibitors.

Mr. and Mrs. Hales and Ruby Lee, also Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hales and Judy returned Friday from Dallas after a week's stay attending the Fair.

Light Showers Fall In Canyon, With Low Temperature

Grasshoppers are reported to be very bad around the edge of wheat fields, and have done a considerable amount of damage to the growing crop.

Football, Home Coming Provide Busy Week-end

Coach Kimbrough's thundering herd of Buffaloes had last week-end off. The open frame which occurred between the game with the North Texas Eagles and the Hardin-Simmons Cowboy game, the latter to be played here this week-end, provided a breather for two important occasions.

First of all, the time was needed to tighten up the technique of the Buffalo Herd. Second, the Homecoming preparation needed some attention. The Buffaloes will meet the Cowboys here and the perennial enemies are sure to provide a rare treat for football fans.

The game is scheduled for 2:30 p. m., Saturday afternoon, October 27. This is also the date for Homecoming activities. There'll be barbecue, dances, loads and loads of band music and a colorful parade. Most of the merchants already have definite plans worked out for their floats.

During the celebration the exes will be getting together to reminisce about college days and colorful celebrations of the past. Start planning now for a great day Saturday when colorful memories will parade through the minds of people at the same time colorful floats pass through town.

Junior Livestock Association Plans New Activities

New interest and new activities are making their appearance in the Junior Livestock Association. The newly elected officers who are making every effort to create new interest in the Association are President Harley Burrus and Secretary-Treasurer E. M. Myers. The new directors are: Glenn Dowlen, Buff Morris, Charlie Conatser, Dudley Moore, Tom Black, Joe Baber and Joe Markham.

The Junior Livestock Association has been doing excellent work since it started several years ago. Officers and members plan an even greater progress during the coming year.

No Puppies, So Dog Adopts Kitten

Bubbles, a small black female dog belonging to Mrs. Jeanette Robbins, has recently shown that dogs and cats can be friends. Bubbles has taken on a task that would probably be disgraceful to a less cultured and educated canine. This task is raising a kitten.

The kitten was abandoned by its mother or lost when it was only a few days old. Mrs. Robbins' daughter found the kitten and brought it to her mother's house. Bubbles has never had any puppies so she bestowed a mother's love upon the kitten. The dog protects the kitten with the fierce loyalty of a true mother.

Young Woman Dies Sunday Hiway Crash

Mrs. Alice Modie Prichard Hollabaugh was killed Sunday morning about 4:45 o'clock in a highway accident on the hill north of Canyon. It is a gruesome story as told by those near the scene of the accident.

Mrs. Hollabaugh, wife of Frank Hollabaugh, was riding in a car which was driven by Mrs. R. B. Lafferty of Amarillo. In the car with the two women were the young son of Mrs. Hollabaugh and the 13-year old daughter of Mrs. Lafferty.

Driving in another car ahead of the women were Mr. Lafferty, his two sons, Roy and Robert, Jr., and Mr. Hollabaugh.

The party had started to Lubbock with the intention of leaving one of the cars. They were driving slowly, and were about half way down the hill when a truck driven by W. A. Berry, 40, of Tulia, came down the hill, crashed into the rear of the car occupied by the women, and this car jammed into the car driven by the men. All three vehicles were demolished.

So hard was the impact that both the truck and second car were in flames in a matter of seconds. The first car rolled to the west off the pavement, while the two burning vehicles were thrown across the highway to the east side.

Mrs. Lafferty and daughter escaped by a miracle. The daughter is in an Amarillo hospital suffering from skull fracture and facial lacerations. The baby was badly burned.

Whether or not Mrs. Hollabaugh was instantly killed will never be known. The flames were so terrific that those at the scene could not extract her body. Nearly two hours after the accident the Canyon Fire Department was able to extract the body of the young woman, who seemed to be crumpled in the bottom of the car and burned almost beyond recognition.

Berry was arrested and charged with negligent homicide. He pled not guilty when his lawyer arrived at the scene and he was released on bond of $1,000. The time of his trial has not been set in County Court. He was not taken to jail as peace officers in Tulia vouched for his reliability.

The body was brought to Canyon and the funeral service held Monday.

Mental Tests Will Provide Four I. Q. Readings of Pupil

Rex Reeves has started giving grade school students a series of tests that will greatly help in determining the ability of each individual child. This year the test will be given throughout the school. After this year tests will be given in the 1st grade, in the 4th grade, in the 7th grade and again in the 11th grade.

The tests will provide four I. Q.'s during strategic times of the youngster's life. When these I. Q.'s are studied they will be a great aid in judging the ability of the child. Whether the child plans to continue his educational career into college or begin work on a career in life, the tests can be a great assistance in guiding that particular individual.

Ladies Night of Lions Club Has Entertaining Skits

A delicious dinner, accordion music and three entertaining skits marked the regular Lions Club Ladies Night, Monday, October 22. The fried chicken was delicious while the tables were decorated with huckleberry leaves and pyrantha.

Characters for the first skit were Dutch Cleavinger, Bill McCormack, Gabe Thompson, Gene McGlasson and Charlie Hillier. Characters for the second skit were Mrs. Emmitt Smith, Aubrey Crossland and Clay Cooper.

At the completion of the second skit Pat Brodie was introduced by Rex Reeves. Pat played four selections on the accordion with the final selection being a medley of two numbers. The first three selections were: "These Foolish Things," "Dark Eyes," and "Tea For Two." The final selection was a medley of two numbers, "Besame Mucho" and "Begin The Beguine."

After the accordion music was finished the Lions and Lionesses turned back to the lilt of skit "Ten Nights in a Barroom." The third and final skit was made up of Clark Jarnagin, Pee Wee Gough, Windy Miller, Gene Davis and Clarence Eugene Thompson.

Movie Stars' Show Viewed by Crowd

A galaxy of real live Hollywood stars stopped off in Canyon Thursday for a bit of lunch and a sort of get-acquainted appearance. The occasion was the 50th Anniversary of Motion Pictures. Before making the appearance the troupe enjoyed a delicious luncheon which had been arranged by Charles Donnell of the Olympic Theater.

Two of the better known stars of the group were Chill Wills and John Barrymore, Jr., who had starring roles in "The Sundowners." Because the film was, for the most part, shot on the Newton Harrell Ranch, Mr. and Mrs. Newton Harrell and Mrs. E. D. Harrell were special guests for the occasion.

Those appearing on the podium besides Chill Wills and John Barrymore, Jr., were Laura Elliot, Mary Murphy, Ann Robin, Joan Taylor, Virginia Hall and Peter Hanson. After being welcomed to town by Mayor Andy Walsh, the stars took over the program. They defended their industry against the Red menace that most people associate with motion picture stars and writers.

It was a colorful day for Canyon and the streets were packed with people who gathered in excited anticipation to see the movie stars in person.

Taft Throws His Hat in the Ring For President of USA

Maybe we are wrong—just hopefully wrong—but it seems to us that the political fight was pretty well settled the other day when Senator Bob Taft announced as a candidate for the Republican party.

Of course there is always the chance that Taft will not get the nomination, but again there is more of a chance that he will be the nominee. As we view the situation, General Eisenhower is the only potential candidate who can stop Taft. Dewey stopped Taft three times, but he is no candidate, and if nominated he could not win.

As we view the situation, President Truman is "sitting pretty" for another term—as much as we may regret it. He announced several weeks ago that he would help Taft get anything he wanted—except the presidency, naturally.

Truman and Taft hold each other in utter contempt. They would not fail to tie into each other, and carry on a rowdy sort of campaign, such as the voters like so well. Truman links the name of Taft with the so-called labor depressing law which bears his name. As a matter of fact the law is good in most respects, but the fact that the President is fighting it has made labor solidly against it. With the 2,500,000 federal employees lined up with Truman for fear of losing their jobs; plus the labor vote in all sections of the country; and those who profit by the free spending of the Truman administration, the prospects are none too rosy for Taft.

Taft is stressing his strength in the Ohio election, where he won over a sort of half-baked Democrat, running with the blessings of the President. He claims to have carried the labor vote in spite of the aggressive opposition of the White House. We doubt this.

Taft will not have the advice and guidance of his wife, who is an adroit campaigner. She is sick and may not live many more months. Taft is cold and calculating in his work. He is as cold as Dewey ever hoped to be. He would be a clay pigeon for the enticing smile and the barbed tongue of the President.

While the President may be honest and of high principle, he has pulled so many boners in appointees that he will be the target of the GOP big guns. His mistakes will be hard to overcome. His stubborn loyalty to his friends has cost him many votes among those who believe that public officials should be honest in their dealings with their fellowmen. While FDR may have been loyal to his friends, Truman cannot see any weakness among those who serve the state. The people of this nation believe in honesty, both among its public officials and among its people. The fact that any one person has been appointed to public office is no excuse for that person stealing from the people whom they are supposed to serve.

We shall see what we shall see during the coming months. The President has made it clear that he knows what he intends doing in 1952, but he has told no one of his plans.

Behind Scene Work of Getting Out Issue of The Canyon News

"Now that you have The Canyon News out for this week, what do you have to do until next week?" asked a sincerely interested citizen the other day.

If he had not been so honest we would have given him the toe of our boot. As it developed, the citizen was honestly seeking information, so here we give you a prelude of the paper which you will be reading next week.

Yes, next week's issue is already in the making. A staff of five people in continually feeding material into the making of a newspaper. Before one issue is off the press, work has started on another issue.

We like to brag about the vast amount of printing which we produce, but frankly this department has been so far behind and working so short handed the past three months that we are sometimes ashamed to look a customer in the face. We have tried to keep up with the little jobs, but the big ones have been running behind, shamefully.

The Canyon News comes first at all times. There will always be a newspaper, even though we are cremated for being so far behind with printing orders. (A lot of folks call it "job" printing, but we do not like that name. It is just printing.)

All right, we are a busy crew here, but we like to keep busy, so bring in your work—advertising, printing, news items, subscriptions, and any other service which we can serve you with.

An adult, without self-control, illustrates the difference between age when measured by maturity instead of years.

The trouble with life today is that there are too many people who recommend themselves too highly.

There seems to be so many systems that about the only way to expedite anything is to leave 'em alone.

Those who orate about free enterprise rarely reject a governmental appropriation that gives a cash benefit.

If the source of driving power is in the mind, we know people who need more brains.

Individuals are often generous in big things and stingy in little ways, and vice versa.

Use the Bombs on the Reds, Including the Moscow Reds

We have yet to find one person who does not believe that Stalin is responsible for the war in Korea, which is costing this nation such a vast sum of money and thousands of lives. Even Washington admits that Stalin is back of the Korean situation, but public officials seem to be inclined to laugh off the billions which are being wasted and the thousands of lives which are being sacrificed to the god of war.

When Stalin started acting up, The Canyon News advocated that Uncle Sam load up a thousand planes with bombs and then tell Stalin that we were going to have peace or Moscow and every Russian industrial plant would be blasted off the face of the earth if he persisted in his war-like attitude.

Have we made any progress toward peace? None whatsoever! We have allowed our allies to continue shipping Russia vital war materials, and have allowed Stalin more time to prepare for war. President Truman admits that Russia has developed the atom bomb while we have been playing with the game of peace.

While no one knows for sure just how much of a stockpile of bombs we have, on the other hand we know nothing about the stockpile that Russia has been able to build up.

We consider this as only a simple solution to a perplexing situation: If we have the bombs, and the planes to carry them, why fool around killing off silly Chinamen who have been sent to war as sacrifice to Russia while we have been and are suffering such heavy losses?

Senator Taft calls the Korean situation as very foolish. Does he mean by this that he would be either throw everything at the Reds, including Russia, or simply pull out and leave Korea to the Reds?

We believe that Taft is good enough American to whip the Reds no matter where they may be found.

There is a growing demand on the part of the people to get started on winning the war in Korea. We have already suffered too much of a loss to laugh off the situation as a police action.

British Diplomacy Takes a Whipping in the Near East

It is hard for Americans to understand our country cousins, the British. Churchill used to say that he was not going to sit idly by and see the British Empire go to pieces. Yet that is just what is happening.

Maybe the American nation is going to wreck also for all that we know. We have a faint suspicion that unless something happens pretty soon that we shall reach the point of no return, and this would certainly be a terrible blow to American diplomacy.

During recent years we have seen India slip away from England.

Iran takes the position that she is being defrauded by the British in her vast oil fields.

The Egyptians now take a page from the history book and threaten to kick the British out of the Suez area.

Why should Americans be so concerned over the situation?

We whipped the British in the revolution of the colonies because we had no rights. The British have exploited China, India, Iran and Egypt. In fact the British have been the greatest exploiters in the name of colonization in the history of the world.

An accusing finger is being pointed at America by the East, and not without reason. We simply pointed the way.

If Russia was removed as a threat in the East, most Americans would throw up their hats and back the revolutionists. But since we are a rich, enlightened people we frown on the idea of a revolt under any guise.

News In Canyon 25 Years Ago

(Taken from the files of
The Canyon News of October 14, 1926)

The Randall county agricultural exhibit placed second at the Dallas State Fair. Garza county won first place; Randall second; Hartley third; Harrison fourth; and Dalham fifth. J. W. Jennings, county agent, represented the county in gathering and displaying the exhibit.

A county-wide bond issue to pave the highway between Canyon and Amarillo is the latest demand of local citizens. The Attorney General has ruled against both plans of forming a road district of Randall and Potter counties, and a road district in Randall county for this paving project.

Due to the large increase in scholastic attendance, it has been forcefully been brought to the school board that a new school building must be erected for the grade school.

Three additional test wells for oil will be sunk in Randall county according to public statements of interested persons.

A protest meeting was held in Umlinger by Hereford citizens who charged that Randall county would not pave to the county line and thus cut off Hereford from the paving.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Roy Carver.

A large crew of men are working on the Santa Fe south of Canyon on a million dollar improvement program of new 90 pound steel and ballast.

A contract was let for construction of the gas pipe line to the South Plains, to run east of Canyon. A line will run into Canyon from the main line unless gas is hit in one of the several contemplated test wells to be drilled in Randall county.

Young Band Director Making Record For Himself and Buffalo Organization

The boss said go over to the band house. It was worth the effort of walking over there. Arrived just in time to hear someone racing up and down the scales on a trombone, as if he had to hurry to get through. Someone else was racing up and down the scales on a clarinet. He seemed to be losing.

From one of the offices in the home of the Buffalo band there was no noise at all. The contrast was so startling I decided to enter. The quiet ceased as I entered. W. O. Latson, director of the band, vociferously greeted me.

And there was tinkling of piano. There was a tinkling of Coke bottles. Also tinkling of laughter and conversation.

This type of greeting is typical of the man who is, at 26, probably the youngest college band director in the nation. Although he was discussing something with a custodian at the time, he offered a convenient filing cabinet suitable for leaning on. The chairs were filled by a part of his 66 or so "assistants," members of the band.

A girl was seated behind a desk, carefully penning notes on a sheet of paper. Another was bending close to the radio, listening to the World's Series. In another chair a boy was thumbing through some of the thousands of sheets of music piled on the director's desk.

As the janitor left, 'Latson' asked if anyone wanted a Coke. Half a dozen hands flew in the air. "You have to be a janitor and philanthropist, too?"

"Yes," he said, "I keep part of the band in spending money."

Bill is taking the place, this year, of M. J. Newman, head-elect of the Music department, currently on leave of absence working on his doctor's degree.

But Bill knows as much about the Buffalo band as anyone around here at present. He should. He played trombone in it three years, while working on his bachelor's degree. Then he went to the University of Iowa where he studied for another year and was granted his master's in 1950.

Returning to this part of the country, he went to Amarillo, his home town, where he taught private lessons and some instrument classes at WT.

It was last summer when Bill was brought here as a full-time instructor and learned of his job for this term.

It occurred to me that he had said nothing about his job or at least how he liked it. But, when asked, his answer was somewhat startling, for he said nothing about the job at all. He was referring to his band students when saying: "We call this the Celestial House, now." Confusing? Judging from the sounds now pouring forth from a beginning clarinet class, yes.

"We have so many little angels around here," he continued, giving a grin to the other people in the room. "They even have haloes—shined haloes—which they keep all shiny with the Blitz cloths on the chairs."

To be a band director around here, it seems, a person must be, as well as philanthropist and janitor, a musician and flatterer. Musicians, as he will tell you, are too complicated for a guy to be just a band director.

Lindsey Taylor Speaks to Lions on Gullible People

'People are gullible,' was the theme of Lindsey Taylor's speech at Lions Club last Wednesday and he proved his point.

At the beginning of his speech he held up a bill that had been rolled into a small cylindrical shape. He called it a twenty dollar bill and offered to give it to anyone who could prove anything he said false.

Taylor then produced a book he claimed was Robert Ripley's latest collection of incidents called, 'Believe It or Not.' Then quoting from the book he made such statements as, zebra stripes are white, not black. The velocity of an ordinary sneeze is 201 miles per hour. A baby was born to a 6 year old girl. A woman of 98 became a mother. The champion father was a king who sired 840 children. Even though Taylor continuously referred to Robert Ripley in the present tense, as though Ripley were still alive, no one challenged his statements.

At the end of his speech as final proof of his point, Taylor ripped the cover from the book he held to reveal it as "The Inconvenient

Band Leader Latson, in one of his more serious moments, studies the band's repertoire, to be used during half-time at the West Texas-North Texas game

Bride," not at all a work of Robert Ripley. He then unrolled the bill in his hand to show a $100 bill and not a $20 bill as he had stated. He also referred to the fact that Ripley is dead and explained that all of his other statements were equally false.

The Lions also initiated a new member, Fred Jennings, brought into the club through the efforts of Clay Cooper. One visitor enjoyed the Lions Club luncheon, he was Bill Knighton of the Hosea Foster Insurance Agency.

1951 Gene Autry Contest Winners Receive Prizes

Saddle ole Paint and put a halter on ole Dobbin 'cause we got some real western prize winners right here at home. Local winners for the 1951 Gene Autry Child of the Year Contest have been announced. Ronnie Huinagle won first prize. Ronnie is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Huinagle. First prize in the local contest was a complete Gene Autry ranch outfit. The second prize, a pair of genuine Gene Autry shop made boots, went to Harley Hager, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hager. The third prize was a 2-way color portrait and it went to little Martha Ann Goodman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Goodman.

The contest was co-sponsored by Gene Autry and Color Laboratories Incorporated. Local details were handled by Mr. W. J. Wooten and Mr. Charles Donnell. Approximately 60 pictures were taken when the contest opened during the spring. These pictures were shown on the screen at the Olympic Theatre and then sent to Portland, Oregon, for judging.

There were three impartial judges who picked the best pictures. These were made up of a man from Eastman Kodak Company, a man from the Ansco Film Company and a local Portland photographer.

Although this particular phase of the contest was local, the entire contest is nation-wide. Local winners compete in the district where the first prize is a real live shetland pony. Then finally the district winners compete for national honors. The first prize here is a screen test with Gene Autry. Yep, we may have a real western movie star growing up right here in our own community.

New 'Clinitron' Tests Blood Samples in 30 Seconds Time

Diabetes, America's eighth killer disease, can now be detected by medical clinics in approximately one-tenth the time usually required with the aid of a new machine known as the "Hewson Clinitron" which was exhibited at the annual meeting of the Massachusetts Medical Society.

Developed by Mathewson Machine Works, Inc., of Quincy, Mass., the new machine makes possible the rapid screening of large groups of people for diabetes.

It has been estimated that more than 1,000,000 Americans unknowningly are diabetic.

When working at full capacity, the "Clinitron" can completely test a sample of blood in 30 seconds. In one recent mass test conducted by one technician, the machine screened 4,300 blood specimens in approximately 40 hours. Under normal test methods, the processing of this number of specimens would require 10 to 15 weeks of a laboratory technician's time, it was said.

According to the designing engineers, the speed of testing has been achieved by completely mechanizing the normal procedure for blood testing.

The "Clinitron" consists of a cast aluminum base, about the size of a small table-top, on which is mounted a turret with holders for 12 test tubes, four slender glass tubes arranged vertically to hold the necessary chemical pills, and a cooling bath tank.

Within the heart of the machine is a small tubular electric heater, especially designed by engineers of the General Electric Company to provide closely-controlled heating of the test tubes at various stages throughout the testing process.

Doctors Credit Cortisone With Saving Animal's Life

Cortisone was credited in Chicago with saving the life of a dog that was almost burned to death.

Citing a newly reported case, the American Veterinary Medical Association said that a dog was brought to Texas veterinarians for treatment after suffering critical burns.

The dog, a prized 4-year-old female pointer, had been trapped in her pen during a grass fire. Deep burns covered nearly half of her body, and the case seemed hopeless. Because severe burns exhaust the adrenal hormone supply, veterinarians decided to give her cortisone, a synthetic adrenal gland hormone, along with other drug treatment to combat internal complications.

Improvement was steady under this treatment. After 25 days, the dog was well enough to return to her owner. After three months, healing was nearly complete. There were only a few scars and these did not interfere with her hunting.

The AVMA said that cortisone also shows promise as a treatment for arthritis and certain eye diseases in animals, but it is in such short supply that veterinarians cannot obtain it for routine use in their practices. Practically all of the cortisone now being produced is going to hospitals and physicians, for treating human diseases. However, larger supplies are expected to be available next year.

Facts on Feet

American industry could halve the nearly $1,000,000,000 bill it pays each year for accident, industrial fatigue and absenteeism resulting from foot ailments, according to a report on a three-month industrial foot care program completed at the Garwood, N. J. plant of Metal Syndicate, Inc. Anticipating an increased strain on its plant facilities because of defense orders, the firm set up a clinical program designed to cut its production and manpower losses arising from foot disorders. A preliminary survey of the program shows that industrial fatigue was reduced by 40 percent and absenteeism dropped 22 percent. It is anticipated that continuance of the foot care program as a permanent project will cut production losses even further. The Metal Syndicate employs more than 400 workers, of whom 389 underwent systematic foot examinations and follow-up care. Of these, 216 were women. The examinations and necessary treatment were given on the premises, in an already existing first aid clinic.

Eyes At Work

Today's ominous threats to world peace and America's all-out program of industrial mobilization again emphasize the vital importance of efficient vision among preparedness workers, the Better Vision Institute points out. Test after test has shown that factory production can be stepped up from 10 to 20 per cent by correction of workers' seeing faults and by improved lighting conditions. In a close-fought war between even matched opponents, that margin might spell the difference between victory and defeat. During World War II the Institute waged a vigorous campaign for eye-care and better lighting in industrial plants. The results were highly gratifying in that they made both workers and employers more sight-conscious. Now the job needs to be done again, and more strenuously than ever.

Soil Being Tested Now For Needs To Grow Better Crops

"Now is the time to have your soil tested for next year's crops," says John Brazzil, County Agent. The soil test should be made now so that soil amendments, if needed, can be made before next year's crops are planted.

Within the last few months Brazzil has sent several soil samples to the soil testing laboratory at College Station for analysis. The tests are made for one dollar per sample. The soils are tested for organic matter, nitrogen, phosphorus, potash, lime, chlorides, and soluble salts. Fertilizer recommendations are made by the soil specialists at College Station based on the soil tests.

The soil samples thus far show that Randall County soils are mostly low in nitrogen and phosphorus. The potash content is high as is also the content of calcium oxide. The reports show that the yellowing of plants in this area is due to two things: low nitrogen and high lime. The high lime content is indirectly responsible for plant chlorosis or the yellowing of plants because the lime in the soil causes iron to become insoluble for plant use. Iron is a basic component of chlorophyll, the green coloring in plant leaves. There is no iron deficiency in our soils; it becomes mostly insoluble when soils are highly alkaline.

People desiring tests for their fields, gardens, or lawns should contact the county agent for instructions in taking the soil sample. Special information sheets must also go along with each sample.

Church Group Hears About 'Keeping Up With the Jones'

"Keeping up with the Jones" was the theme of the friendly group of parents who met at the Baptist Church Friday morning. The meeting was the first in a series of discussions on this subject and what it means to our children. These meetings are being sponsored by the P-TA and the AAUW.

Intense interest was shown when Mrs. Mary Sligar, the advisor for the series, analyzed the effects of "keeping up with the Jones." At the beginning of her speech she described the ideal family or "the Jones." These are the people whom many of us try to copy their symbols of success and in so doing begin to live in the future and lose the substance and real meaning of life entirely. We imagine they have all the possessions they need; cars, electrical appliances, a beautiful home (always in order) filled with new-looking luxurious furniture. They always receive invitations to the most important social functions. Their children are brilliant, well-behaved, athletic, sweet, charming, in other words, ideal. After the description Mrs. Sligar reminded the group that no such people ever existed and that their lives would be very dull if they did.

Mrs. Sligar went on to explain that we strive to create the image and then imitate it because of our changing world and the difficulty in finding the substance and true value of life. The way of life today is to feel secure when success can be seen and measured in new fields and new accomplishments. This trend is an impossible will-o-the-wisp because there are always new fields to conquer, new competitors to defeat. In fact, when engaged in chasing the Jones' so intently we often fail to enjoy the good things of life that we should enjoy.

Instead of understanding our children we are inclined to try to make them fit into our scheme of things, explained Mrs. Sligar. The natural reaction to this is a form of camouflaged rebellion. This mask of unnaturalness is often worn into adult life and often leads to mental illness, the speaker explained. Mrs. Sligar used the Navajos as an example of serenity and explained some of their customs.

At the conclusion of the speech Mrs. Rex Reeves, Librarian, circulated a list of books available to members of the course during the five weeks period. The parents had an opportunity to look the books over and take home the ones of interest. The facilities of the college library were emphasized and urged those attending the course to make use of the library. The books of interest during this series of discussions, second of which is scheduled for Friday, Oct. 26, can be taken home by the parents.

General topics of discussion will be, how do those Jones children behave and why do they do as they do? Under this topic will come such questions as: Did they throw things when they were little? Do they now? What do they do instead? Are they well-mannered? Do they do well in school? Are there black sheep among them? Why? Do they eat well? Did they when they were little? Did they allowed to follow their own imperfect ideas?

The nursery for the second meeting will be open at 9:25 a. m. The registration desk will be just inside the basement door of the First Baptist Church and everyone is invited.

Open House Will Be Observed by Amarillo Air Base

Announcement has been made of the official opening of Amarillo Air Force Base on November 10 and 11th.

A parade of Air Force troops, together with top-ranking generals from over the nation will be featured on the opening day. The parade will be reviewed on Polk Street.

The official air force band from Washington, D. C., will be on hand to lead the parade.

A jet plane demonstration will be featured on Sunday, the second day of the opening.

On Sunday afternoon the gates to the base will be opened to all visitors and guides will be furnished for conducted tours. The base will be dedicated in a program Sunday afternoon, November 11, at 3 o'clock.

Here is the hope of America... young life with all its promise of usefulness and of idealism. Typical of millions of young Americans is this young fisherman. He matches the country with its marvelous resources scarcely discovered. He is healthy, energetic and creative. His tattered hat, rugged body and keen sense of humor declares him capable of his share of tomorrow's responsibility. God planted rich values in the land and in human persons. He will sustain this young fisherman as he makes himself useful to humanity.

This young American has a keen sense of morality, the goodness and the omnipotence of God... he goes to church. His virtues are many and he lives by the Golden Rule. He observes the habits of all of us every day. He is a dreamer. May we help him to dream dreams of worth and usefulness and to plan worthy ends he is to seek. He is your boy and mine. May we as good people assist in planning his program, his life. He is ours to mold and inspire. Let us take him to church regularly and stamp him or bend him for all the tomorrows.

YOU IN THE CHURCH THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you" form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCH. GOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

Construction Will Start Soon on New Baptist Student Center Near Campus

Construction on the new $50,000 Baptist Student Center building is scheduled to begin this month.

The new building will replace the temporary residence that has served as the center for Baptist students since 1946. The students have been using the remodeled student center which has been moved to the other end of the block, opposite the Science Building to make room for the new building.

The modernistic-style structure of stone, glass, and Roman brick will be located across the street from the campus entrance to the administration building and should be ready for use by January, 1952.

According to W. F. Howard of Dallas, Texas, Director of Baptist student work, the building will contain a large recreation and fellowship room, a reading room, prayer room, class room, kitchen, office, and living accommodations for two students. Another feature of the new center of Baptist activities on the campus will be a patio with a pool. Sliding panels of glass will open from all sides into the patio.

The Baptist Student Department of Dallas will provide 60% of construction costs. The First Baptist Church of Canyon and the Tierra Blanca Association will provide $5000 and friends in the region are being asked to provide the remaining $11,000. Pastors of Baptist churches throughout this area are presenting the request to the people and many responses have been made.

Activities held in the Baptist Student Center are Morning Watch every morning at 7:40, a sing-song on Wednesday evenings at 6:45, council meetings on Monday evening, followed by Life Service Band meeting. The Y. W. A. and Brotherhood meetings are on Tuesday and a fellowship period is held following the evening service on Sunday.

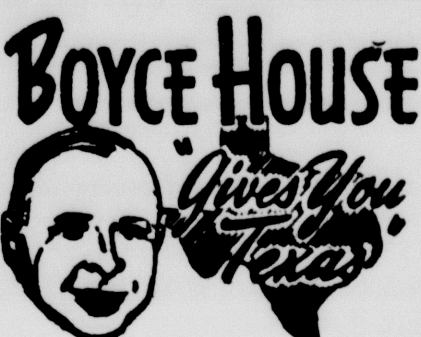

Completion of this building will be another indication of the advancement of West Texas State College as Methodists and the Church of Christ have buildings adjacent to the campus for their activities among students of these faiths.

These religious groups are not connected directly with the college as it is operated by the state, but the groups have the approval of the administration as a contribution to the welfare of the students. College credit is given for courses in Bible offered at the centers.

Baptist students especially will be eagerly watching the building of the new Baptist Student Center and looking forward to the opening date.

Regent Member Visits Campus

John C. Calhoun, Corsicana member of the Board of Regents, made his first official visit to West Texas State yesterday afternoon. Calhoun is a new member of the Board.

The melodramas that were popular in my youth contained lines which would be considered "hifalutin" today. For instance, the "hero" in one play gazed out of a window in a metropolis at night and said, "Oh, twinkling lights of the great city, how many lives have you lured to their doom!"

Brother, that rang the bell! And when the "hero," after wandering through adventures in the outside world, returned to the farm of his boyhood and his gaze rested upon the peaceful farmhouse in the valley, he sighed and said, "Ah, how the old home place has changed!"

That would put a lump in your throat. Of course he might be wearing the same pair of green-and-yellow socks he wore when he took his departure five years before, but gaily gods were never ones to cavil.

Some of the greatest scenes had only a few words; it was the emotion, the pathos which was crowded into them — as when, in "East Lynne" or maybe it was "Way down East," the father drove his erring daughter from home while the weeping mother pleaded, "Father, don't drive Nellie into the storm" and the snowflakes swirled in through the open door, and the piano tremoled and the violin wailed but the father stood, stern and unrelenting, his outpointed hand rigid in the command, "Go!" and the curtain fell for the end of the second act.

One heroine, I think it was "Sadie, the Shop-Girl," told the cigar-smoking, black-mustached villain, "Heaven will protect the working girl." An irreverent comedienne in vaudeville mutilated this noble thought into, "You may tempt the upper classes with your shameful demi-tasses—but heaven will protect the working girl." We who loved the drama in its purest form felt that there should be a law!

Most sublime of all the lines of the golden days of melodrama was uttered by the pure-hearted country lassie in the city who spurned the advances of Desperate Desmond with, "Rags are royal raiment when worn for virtue's sake!" Alack-and-alas, they don't write plays that are really plays any more.

Henry M. Jackson, Member of Congress, from Washington: "Fortunately, we have a commanding lead over the Soviet in the atomic arms race."

Your truck PUFFING instead of PULLING?

Even the best of us get out of shape from time to time. But that truck of yours—if it's to be a steady source of profitable income—must be kept in hauling trim. That's our specialty.

If you turn your equipment over to our mechanics at regular intervals—we can keep your trucks in tiptop condition by catching the "little things" before they develop into major breakdowns.

And in so doing, you save money three ways.

First, you avoid 90% of the costly repairs experienced by less wise truck owners.

Second, you get more hours of profitable hauling with less time lost to "down time."

Third, you get more years of service from the equipment you now own.

Isn't it worth a try?

Word Received Disposition of Underpass

Hurray for our side. That's what everyone in the vicinity should be yelling for the delegation of men who recently went to Austin. Only a few days after this group returned from the trip a wire for the press was released to The News. This wire says, "The State Highway Commission directed the State Highway Engineer Tuesday to proceed with the preparation for a grade separation of US Highway 87 and the Panhandle and Santa Fe Railway near the north city limit of Canyon."

The news release also goes on to say that, "The order of the Commission stated that when plans are complete and all right of way obtained, the Commission will consider financing the project in the next available program of work."

The delegation that went to Austin was made up of Mayor Andy Walsh, County Judge Burney Slack, Cliff Mlinar, W. W. Sternberg and G. B. Heath. As you probably already know this delegation was in Austin to see what could be done about breaking the dangerous bottleneck on highway 87 at the narrow underpass north of town. Although there has been no serious accident at the underpass, this good luck cannot be expected to last long. The 2 lane horse-and-buggy underpass is a great menace to high-speed traffic of today because at present there is a 4 lane highway to the north of it and a 6 lane highway to the south of it and 2 lanes through it. Although actual construction may be delayed for some time, everyone will breathe easier when plans to begin action are unfolded.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Damron visited in the J. F. Waters, Jr. home in Amarillo Sunday.

Talked Tuesday to Investment Speaker Canyon Rotary Club

George Sims of Amarillo talked Tuesday at the Rotary Club luncheon and showed a motion picture on stock exchange practices. Mr. Sims represents Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Beane. Irving SoRelle was in charge of the program and introduced the speaker.

Common stock holders differ from bond holders in that they are joint owners in the company and participate in the earnings. Bond holders loan their money to the company at a specified rate of interest. Inflation has lowered the income of bond holders.

Mr. Sims recommended common stocks as the best buy, but urged that the buyers diversify their holdings.

Holmes Ambrose, new member of the college Music Department, was received as a new member.

Visitors were: Dr. E. Galbraith of Kerrville; Toby Galbraith, John Ballard, Geo. M. Waddill, J. J. Sanders, Swede Tolzien, Keith Weisinger, J. A. Tryden, Jr., all of Amarillo.

P-TA Will Be Organized in Happy Area

One of the most worthy organizations a person can contribute an effort to support is the educational system of today's youngsters. This is the reason for having an association of teachers and parents. These people work out a system of better understanding between the teachers, the pupils and the parents.

Because of the increased interest in this phase of work, the public schools of Happy are meeting to organize a Parent-Teacher Association. The meeting has been called for October 29. Everyone in the vicinity of Happy who is interested in the civic development of that community is invited to attend the meeting. There will be refreshments served at this meeting which is to be held at 7:30 p. m. in the School Cafeteria.

Baby Pinched in Canyon To Cry for Daddy in Japan

Duane Williams, who is serving with the U. S. Armed Forces in Japan, has never seen his young son, but he has heard the youngster cry. Mrs. Marilyn Williams was recently called by her husband and in order to let him hear some of his son's noise, pinched the baby slightly where it did the most good. Sure enough, little Stuart Duane let out a cry that was heard all the way to Japan.

Mrs. Williams is the sister of Stuart Condron. The baby was named for her brother and her husband. Little Stuart Duane probably has the distinction of being the first Canyon baby whose cry was heard in Japan.

Panhandle Legions To Pay Tribute To Gibson in Meeting

CHARLIE GIBSON

State Legion Commander Charlie Gibson of Amarillo will be honored by 750 Legionnaires of his home district when they meet in Childress Saturday and Sunday, October 27 and 28, for the "Charlie Gibson Homecoming Convention."

District Commander Rhea Smith of Amarillo said that the annual fall convention of the 45 American Legion Posts of the 18th Congressional District will be dedicated to Gibson, the first World War I veteran to head the organization in several years. Smith, who succeeded Gibson as district commander, said that Legionnaires from New Mexico and throughout Texas will join in the tribute to the new state commander.

In his address to his homecoming convention, Gibson is expected to make an appeal to the voting public for approval of the proposed constitutional amendment which would add $75 million to the Veterans Land Program fund. Gibson will leave for Henderson immediately after the convention to continue his stumping tour of 28 East Texas towns, speaking for enactment of the new law under which Korean War veterans and World War II veterans may buy farms and ranches at low interest rates over a long period of time. The amendment will be voted on November 13.

Rodgers and Hammerstein To Be Presented In Amarillo

What started out simply as an experiment in live entertainment has during the past three years blossomed into a colossal success. It is the "Rodgers and Hammerstein Nights," booked by James A. Davidson Management. This will be presented in the Municipal Auditorium in Amarillo, November 11, at 8:30 p. m.

In summer stadiums, in municipal auditoriums and in college lecture halls, these symphony concerts of theatre music have become a tradition of booming popularity, with soloists, a chorus and concert orchestra, the programs feature the songs and music of such Broadway hits as "South Pacific," "Oklahoma!," "The King and I," "Carousel," "Allegro," and the film, "State Fair."

Rodgers and Hammerstein concerts were first presented three seasons ago when several summer symphony orchestras offered an evening devoted completely to their works. Immediately successful, they encouraged other and more extended events. Ambitious orchestral arrangements of the scores were prepared, and soloists and chorus became part of the pattern for all subsequent "Rodgers and Hammerstein Nights" — and even, in some instances, week-long "Festivals" of their music.

"Rodgers and Hammerstein Nights" popularity is indicated by the following attendance. In their 1950 summer concert sessions, 6,000 at Beauregard Square, New Orleans; 10,000 at the Red Rocks Festival, Denver; 15,000 at the Yale Bowl; 18,000 at the Hollywood Bowl; 21,000 at Lewish Stadium in New York City; 140,000 at Grant Park, Chicago. This concert will be given in Amarillo, the only performance in the Panhandle. It will later be presented at the State Fair.

Four promising young singers selected by Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein II will be featured as soloists. The singers are Leigh Allen, soprano; Earl Williams, tenor; Carol Jones, mezzo-soprano; and Andrew Gainer, baritone. They will be accompanied by a chorus of 14 and a concert orchestra of 32 musicians.

Leigh Allen comes straight from the cast of the current Rodgers and Hammerstein Broadway hit, "South Pacific." She first reached the attention of Mr. Rodgers through her performance in the Broadway production of "Great to Be Alive." Prior to this she had musical education in her native California. Primarily singing solo with a Lithuanian chorus in New York, and two extensive tours in musicals, one in "The Great Waltz" and the other in "Brigadoon," she was well trained to the point of her present position.

Earl Williams, Clevelandite and ex-Navy man, has at one time or another sung in concert, opera, Oratorio, operetta, vaudeville, musical comedy, radio and television. As a result of intensive training and ever-increasing voice perfection, Williams held many leading roles in Broadway operettas and guest spots in radio programs. One of his most exciting roles was probably his performance in "Curtain Time," a Broadway Musical.

Coming from a musically-gifted family, Carol Jones made her first opera debut in Chattanooga, Tenn. Recently, a member of the Robert Shaw Chorus, she was guided into the many musical activities of that group—radio, television and recording, mainly recording selections from Gilbert and Sullivan. Earlier she appeared in lead roles in such operas as "Martha" and "The Barber of Seville."

A most promising young singer is Andrew Gainer. Carrying behind him such accomplishments as performances as the famed Central City, Colorado, Opera Festival and with the New York City Opera Company, the American Opera Company, the San Antonio Civic Opera and the Denver Symphony, Gainer is probably the most circulated of the group.

Adorning his coat of accomplishment are leading roles in Gian-Carlo Menotti's "The Old Maid and The Thief," "Carmen," "Cavalleria Rusticana," "Pagliacci," and "Romeo and Juliet." On Broadway, his spirited performance, of Petruccio in "Kiss Me Kate" was wildly acclaimed by critics and audience alike.

The songs that Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein have composed together have their own validity. Even when taken apart from their plays and presented in concert form, they still stand as directly appealing to the heart of musical America as they did in the original setting. Such concert performances of their works have already become a feature in the musical life of many American communities. It is hoped that the touring "Rodgers and Hammerstein Nights" will come to occupy a similar position in every community that has no locally established symphonic organization.

Well Organized Health Department Need of Counties

"What the average community needs is a well organized health department which emphasizes five types of activities to protect the child's health," says Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. "These activities are: (1) The safeguarding of child health and motherhood; (2) the control of contagion; (3) accurate recording of births and deaths; (4) support of public health laboratories; and (5) sanitary control of diseases spread from human waste and by vermin and insects."

"The full time local health unit gives due emphasis to each of the above mentioned activities. To illustrate how these 5 essential functions are inter-related, the interest of the various divisions in the new born baby, preschool and school child may be cited as an example. Child health is safeguarded by providing information and instruction to the mother. Through the use of vital statistics, complete and accurate birth registration is kept, as well as records indicating deaths which occur among children from preventable diseases.

"Contagion is prevented or controlled against further spread through the prompt reporting of infectious disease. Public health laboratories and sanitary engineers provide additional bulwarks of protection for child life.

"Adequate health organization and wholehearted support on the part of various state and local agencies are essential if these activities are to be successfully maintained."

Home Ec Girls of WT Have "Living Laboratory" Learning to Real Life

Nope it ain't ptomaine these gals are preparing. This is real home cookin'. Dorothy McCasland and Laverne Fowler are hard at work slaving over a hot stove in the home management house; this is what Home Economics does to a girl, boys. Take notice!

You may have wondered what goes on behind the walls of the homey-looking brick house across the street from the Student Union. This is the Home Management House which is a home to six girls each nine weeks. These girls live here to study the actual problems which confront a home maker. They do all the work and plan all the activities which go on in the house.

After registration, Suzanne Owens, of Canyon; Laverne Fowler, Floydada; Dorothy McCasland, Tulia; Mary Moreman, and Mildred Carter, Canyon, moved into the Home Management House. The first thing they did was classify and divide the duties. Then they were each assigned a job to perform for one week. The assignments are re-issued each week, giving each girl a chance at each post. The first week's duties were posted as follows:

Suzanne Owens was chosen to serve as cook. Her duties included planning the menus, and buying groceries and kitchen supplies. She was responsible for depositing money, writing checks and keeping books. In addition, she was responsible for all the kitchen activities. She learned how to plan meals for a family of six on 70 cents per person per day.

Mildred Carter served as assistant cook. She had the task of helping the cook in planning and preparing meals and was in charge of the dining room. She set the table, arranged the center piece and acted as waitress during the meals.

Dorothy McCasland was downstairs housekeeper and hostess. She was responsible for making the downstairs rooms as attractive as possible. She cared for and arranged the furniture and rugs. She also planned for and extended hospitality to guests. She tried to keep the household running as smoothly as possible.

Mary Moreman was upstairs housekeeper and host. She was responsible for the care of upstairs rooms. She acted as host at the table, and assisted the hostess in extending hospitality to the guests.

Laverne Fowler acted as basement housekeeper. She cared for the basement and laundered table linens and dish towels. This is the duty which follows the cook's position, because it is light enough to allow time to recuperate from the heavy responsibilities of the cook.

Several meals for guests have been planned. A luncheon was prepared and served by the girls on September 19 to instructors of the Home Economics Department. Other tentative entertainments are: a picnic, slumber party, coffee for friends, dinner with President and Mrs. Cornette, and other faculty members as guests. A dinner in Amarillo at the Marine Grill or some other restaurant or hotel is being planned.

There is more to running a home than merely wielding a broom and preparing a meal, and at least some of the girls are going to know how to cope with the situation when it arises.

PARK H. D. CLUB MET WITH MRS. MARY SIMON

The Park Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. Mary Simon October 18. Roll call was answered with "My favorite color." Mrs. Kenneth Erwin finished giving the first-aid course. Mrs. Leonard Winters gave the council report.

Officers for the next year are: Mrs. Elmer Winters, president; Mrs. Joe Edd Turpin, vice-president; Mrs. G. A. Calling, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Frank Simon, reporter; Mrs. Leonard Winters, council representative.

Delicious refreshments of cinnamon rolls, mints and coffee were served to Mrs. Kenneth Erwin, Mrs. Frank Simon, Mrs. Leonard Winters, Mrs. Herrick Simon, Mrs. Elmer Winters, Mrs. E. Sheets, Mrs. Flynn Winters, and Mrs. Mary Simon, hostess.

Mrs. Dee Hill and daughter, Joan visited in Alanreed over the weekend.

Walter D. Williams was called to Fort Worth by the death of his mother, Thursday.

TAXES: This news letter is being written just after my return to my office from casting a vote on the new tax bill. That is the tax bill that would increase taxes in order to gather another 5-1/2 billion dollars — the same tax bill that failed to pass on October 9th. My vote was cast against this tax increase on Tuesday and was cast against the bill on Friday. There is much that can be said for and against the bill, and I have done my best to give deep and conscientious consideration to all of the amendments on both sides. I have never seen the House of Representatives quieter or more tense than during the roll-call vote on this bill. The final vote was 185 "yeas" to 160 "nays." Lack of space will not permit me to tell you of the many interesting incidents that occurred during the past week, especially concerning this tax measure, but I hope to be back in the district before long and will try to do it then.

PUBLIC DEBTS: I told you in my letter last week that I would try to give you the present per capita public debt in the European countries as compared with the per capita debt of this country. Here are some of them.

You will note that the nearest approach to the per capita debt of the United States is that of Great Britain. The figures on the foreign countries are based on the end of the 1950 fiscal year, except Great Britain, which is March 31, 1951. The figure for the United States is as of October 10, 1951.

FARM INCOME: Here is some information that I know will be of interest to the farmers, since it seems to be the policy that every time a farmer gets his head above water, someone wants to hit him with an oar. Most of you know that the farmers have been subjected to much criticism about high prices, and this information is given en you to show that the farmer is not to blame. For instance, according to present statistics, on an average basis, bread that is now selling for 16 cents a loaf was selling for approximately 2 cents less per pound in 1948. In January, 1948, wheat was selling at $2.79. It is now bringing $2.07. This shows that the farmer is getting over a cent less per pound for his wheat. While the consumer is paying two cents more for the bread. The same situation is true as to milk. The Texas average price is about $6.35 per hundred-weight, while in 1948 milk brought Texas farmers an average of $6.60. In New York City the man who delivers the milk gets as much for this service as does the farmer for the same milk, and it must be remembered that the farmer not only provides the investment in his farm, his equipment and his cows, but must also feed and milk the cows. Hogs are now worth $19.70. In 1947 hogs sold for $27.10. Eggs are now bringing farmers 55 cents over the country. Last year they brought 65 cents. It all adds up to this: Those who blame the farmer for higher retail prices are just not acquainted with the facts.

THE FARM LABOR PROBLEM: Several of the Texas congressmen met again with officials of the Department of Labor this week in an effort to try to work out the problem that the farmers are facing in getting their cotton harvested. Other than myself, George Mahon, Clark Fisher, Olin Teague, Frank Ikard and Graham Barden, of North Carolina, were present at the meeting, and Omar Burleson of Texas, was represented. We had worked long and hard for a solution of the problem and presented it to these officials, but it is my opinion that they are not going to do anything about it. We intend to continue our efforts for an amendment to the Fair Labor Standards Act if the Labor Department does not straighten out the situation, and I firmly believe that we will be able to muster enough support to get this amendment through the first of next year. This is not going to help the farmers this fall, but, as most of you know, many of these battles up here are up-hill fights. We have some valiant warriors on our side in this fight, and certainly hope to win before long.

BYE BYE BINGO

Is BINGO going to be outlawed from the annual Halloween Carnival at CHS?

According to Article 619, Penal Code, "If any person shall directly, or as agent or employee for another, or through any agent or agents, keep or exhibit for the purpose of gaming, any policy game, any gaming table, bank, wheel, or device for the purpose of gaming which has no name, or any slot machine, any pigeon hole table, any jenny-lind table, or table of any kind whatsoever, regardless of the name or whether named or not, he shall be confined in the penitentiary not less than two nor more than four years regardless of whether any of the above mentioned games, tables, banks, wheels, devices or slot machines are licensed by law or not. Any such table, bank, wheel, machine or device shall be considered as used for gaming, if money or anything of value is bet thereon."

It is apparent that it is not necessary that the game of Bingo be specifically mentioned in the statute, for the above article reads in part as follows: "... Any gaming table, bank, wheel, or device of any name or description whatever, of any kind whatsoever, regardless of the name or whether named or not..."

It is thought that the game of Bingo is a slight modification or variation of the game of Keno, which is specifically banned by Article 621, Penal Code. The two games are essentially alike in that any number of persons can play; the cards used are alike; the method of winning is the same; numbers are selected by chance; and the winner is given an award or prize.

The ruling of the Attorney General of Texas, Gerald C. Mann, is as follows: "... it is the opinion of this Department that the game of Bingo comes within the prohibition of the ... statutes of the Penal Code and that any person who operates a Bingo gaming table or bank is subject to prosecution under Article 619 of the Penal Code."

Bingo is outlawed.

Dating Data

So you would give anything to feel at ease and relaxed, but instead, you are shy and actually miss gobs of fun for that very reason.

Buck up! Shyness is, according to the doctor's Who's Who, as natural a sign of growing up as a tricked-up apple. It strikes gals and fellows alike anywhere, in the classroom, around strangers, or on a date. Shyness is actually a feeling of self-consciousness that folks are just waiting to see you pull a boner.

Well, quit being scared of people and just be glad you are YOU! Instead of being miserable running yourself down try paying more attention to the other fellow. Pretty soon things will get too interesting to leave time for an ill-at-ease shyness.

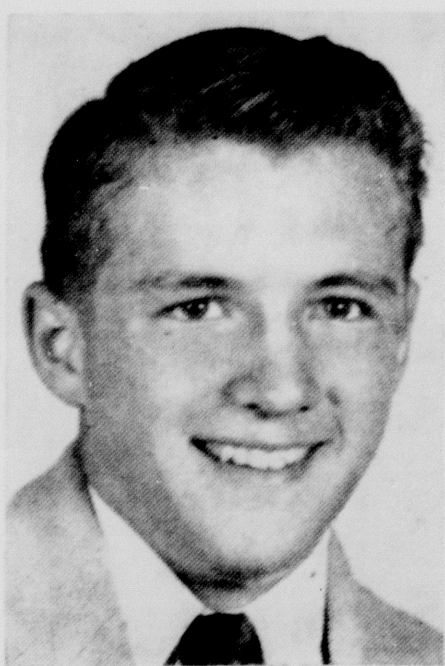

Beginning to get the idea? Let us sum it up this way. To be overly shy is to be overly concerned with yourself and the impression you make. Look at other people and listen to them. Try seeing how swell it is to just relax and have fun on dates or when you push aside shyness and find nerve enough to ask for dates.

STUDENTS ELECT SFC PRESIDENT, VICE-PRESIDENT IN HOT SESSION

If the newly elected Student-Faculty Congress president and vice-president carry the ball in managing the welfare of Canyon High as they do on the gridiron, it will be a grand year for the student body. Jimmy Cornette, president, and John Miller, vice-president, were elected by the student body, October 16.

Campaigning for president and vice-president was presented in assembly Monday. Vice-presidential candidates with their managers were: John Miller, assisted by Stirling Cummings; and A. C. Wimberly aided by Don McDonald and R. A. Burgess. Presidential candidates: Richard Sanders, whose managers were Florence Coffee and Pete Donnell; and Jimmy Cornette with Dwain Currie, Tommy Middleton, and Ray Burrus assisting.

Jimmy Cornette, 16 year old senior, was born in Bowling Green, Kentucky, May 8, 1935. This is Jim's fourth year of school here.

Since coming to Canyon High, Jimmy has held offices in clubs and classes. He was junior class vice-president and this year elected as senior vice-president. S. F. C. rules require students holding major offices in the S. F. C. to give up offices held in the classes. Jim is playing his second year as "A" team center for the Eagles and is parliamentary for the F. F. A.

John Miller, junior, was born in Canyon on July 16, 1935. He has gone to school here all his life. When asked what his reaction to the election was, John said he was both "surprised and happy" at the outcome.

Other offices John has held are: vice-president of his class during his freshman year; S. F. C. representative of his class during sophomore year; and up to the time of his election of vice-president of S. F. C. he was vice-president of the junior class. According to the S. F. C. constitution, article 2, section 1, he cannot hold this office as, "the junior or senior who is elected president or vice-president, must not hold any other major office." John is a fullback on the "A" football team of Canyon High School.

Album, Gift Chest Red Cross Projects

An International Correspondence Album and a gift chest are the two main projects of the year for the Canyon High School Junior Red Cross under the direction of Mrs. Joe Findley.

Other extensive plans have been made for the coming year. Projects for entertaining at the Veterans' Hospitals and making Christmas and St. Patrick's Day decorations for the hospital have been discussed. Plans are also underway for a Junior Red Cross float in the Homecoming Parade.

A get acquainted party, honoring the parents of the members of the junior class, was given by the room parents, Tuesday night, October 23, in the cafeteria.

Means of getting acquainted was accomplished by assigning the parents to different tables. Games of tangle knots, gum drop sculpture, milk bottles, words, and jack straws were enjoyed by everyone. The men were called upon to demonstrate their ability to fish; while the women proved their skill at sewing. The winning couples at each table advanced after each game.

Refreshments for the party were cake with orange sauce, nuts, and coffee.

ART CLASS

Red splash! Blue splash! Purple splash! Green splash!

Those are some of the many colors the art classes have been using in free hand designs.

Miss Claudia Neelley art instructor of Canyon High School, is directing students in a series of paintings, using any pattern or picture they wish, in the study of line and movement in design. This project gives the student a chance to express his feelings through line and color and some excellent textile patterns are being produced as a result. The designs can be used for silk prints, draperies, linen, and almost any type of material.

GIFTS BOUGHT BY FRESHMEN

Freshmen bought gifts for Harrell Slack, senior, and Norris Samuelson, freshman.

Eagles Smother Cyclone in 20-6 Gridiron Defeat

Coach Floyd Murry's High School Eagles got off to a flying start and sailed over the Memphis Cyclones in a 20 to 6 victory in Cyclone Stadium Friday night. The Eagles were the aggressors all the way and the spirit of the team never failed to weaken even when the first touchdown, made early in the first quarter by Red Ratliff, was called back and a 15 yard penalty for illegal use of hands on the offense was slapped on them.

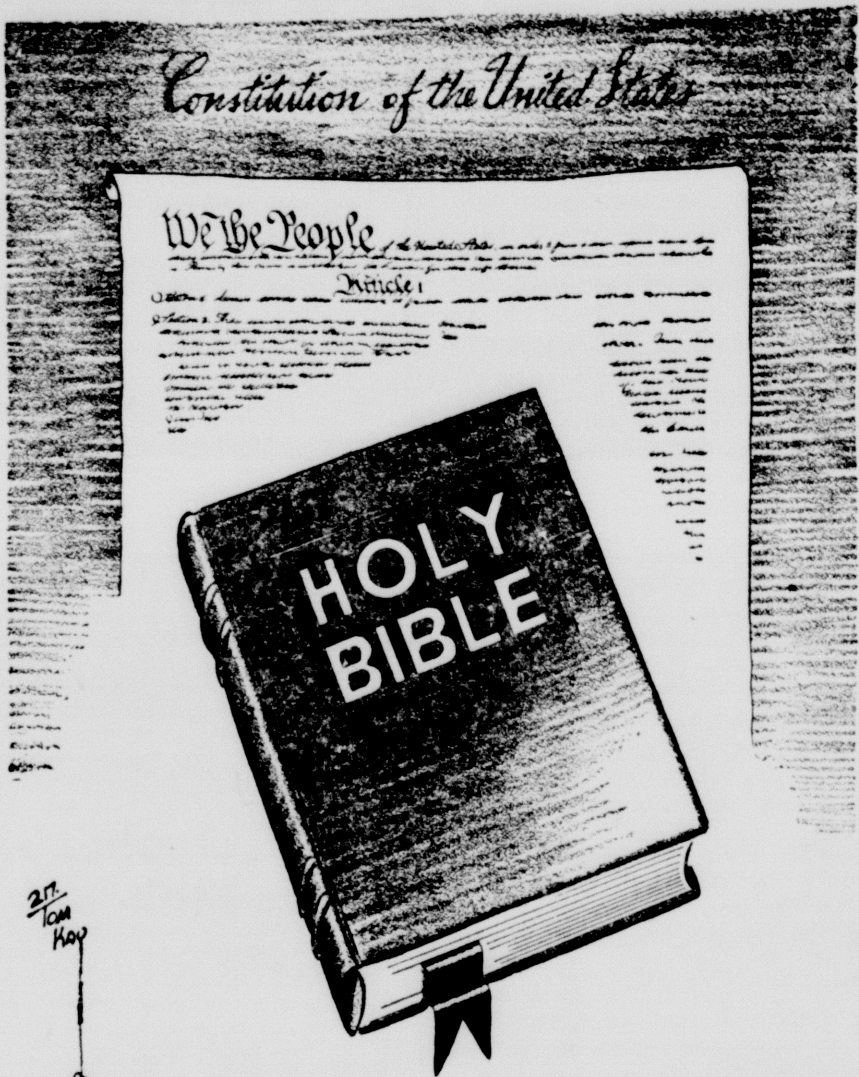

The Eagle team was clicking like a well oiled machine and before the first quarter was over they had worked the ball down to the 5 yard line where Red Ratliff took it and crossed the goal line standing up. The conversion failed and the score was 6 to 0.

When the Cyclones recovered the ball on a fumble in the second quarter they took to the air in an effort to roll up some yardage. After 6 of Kennedy's passes failed to find their mark the Cyclone team tried running some plays. Although Lee and Messer showed good style for the Cyclones, they could not keep making enough yardage to control the pigskin. The Eagles took the ball on downs and once more Red Ratliff started lugging the pigskin in a zealous fashion. He made a 40 yard run that was re-called. A couple of plays later he ran 37 yards and on the next play swept wide around the right end for the second TD of the game. It was also Ratliff who got a toe into the ball for a good conversion kick and the score was 13 to 0 with the Cyclones trailing.

Twice in the third quarter of the game the Cyclones threatened, but the Eagles tightened the line to ward off the Cyclone chances to score. Long punts twice pulled the Cyclones out of desperate situations. Even though the Eagles were rolling up a lot of yardage, the Cyclones managed to hold at a couple of dangerous times to get the ball back on downs. In the third quarter Lynn Williams and Red Ratliff took turns at carrying the ball. The Eagles rolled up 17 yards in 4 plays then Ratliff took the ball again and scampered 32 yards for the third Eagle touchdown. Ray Burrus hung a true toe into the pigskin for the conversion kick and the score now stood at 20 for the Eagles and 0 for the Cyclone team.

On the Eagle end of the field there was expert playing by Jimmy Cornette, Dick Dowdy, Dwain Currie, Ray Burrus, Tommy Middleton,

THE AMERICAN WAY

Red Ratliff and Johnny Miller.

Arlen Ruthart, A. C. Wimberly, Lynn Williams, Larry Stroupe, Tommy Myers, Pete Donnel and Don McDonald also came in for their share of glory on the gridiron Friday night.

Down on the Cyclone end of the field it was Messer, Allen, Stevens, Morrison, Monzingo, Hartman, Kennedy and Lee who turned in star performances. It was Lee's pass to Morrison that netted the Cyclone team their one and only TD. The conversion failed and with only a few minutes left in the game the score stood at 20 for the Eagles and 6 for the Cyclone.

Memphis punted 5 times, Canyon 2. Memphis made 8 first downs, Canyon 6. Memphis failed at 13 passes, Canyon failed at 9. When the clock ran out the final score was 20 for Canyon and 6 for Memphis.

Friday night the Eagles visit Phillips where they will meet the Blackhaws in a gridiron tilt that's sure to be a thriller.

Future Teachers Take Over Campus For a Day at WTSC

The Future Teachers' Association started their meeting off Monday morning with a get acquainted session. Hot chocolate and doughnuts were served in the Home Economics Department from 9:00 to 10:00 a. m. Then from 10:00 to 11:15 there was the general assembly of members and guests in the auditorium of the administration building. Howard Bramlette gave the invocation.

Four musical selections were rendered by Holmes Ambrose. They were: "My Lovely Celia" by Munroe, "Sailormen" by Wolfe, "O Del Mio" by Anato Ben Donaudy and "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes" by Kern. In the midst of a roaring ovation Mr. Ambrose and his accompanist, Matilda Gaume left the stage after the 4 selections were completed.

Dr. James P. Cornette greeted the organization and introduced the speaker, W. B. (Red) Weathered of Pampa. Mr. Weathered's speech was on the subject, "Why Choose Teaching?" The speech was woven around the theme of the homespun philosophy of a negro teacher. The teacher had said, "You Can't teach watcha ain't done learned any more than you can come back from where you ain't done been." The importance of the teaching profession lies in learning what you're going to teach first, then teaching it. The speaker also explained the opportunities of the teaching profession and made the statement that the future of the entire world could easily rest upon the future teachers of this country.

During the afternoon session the minutes of last year's meeting was read. A part of the constitution was changed and new officers were elected. A number of towns in this vicinity were represented. Those known to be represented and called out in general assembly were: Dalhart, Childress, Perryton, Canyon, Hereford, Amarillo, Wellington, Tulia and Groom.

Climax of the meeting was the election of queen school marm and king pedagogue.

Progress Is Just Pain in the Neck For Some People

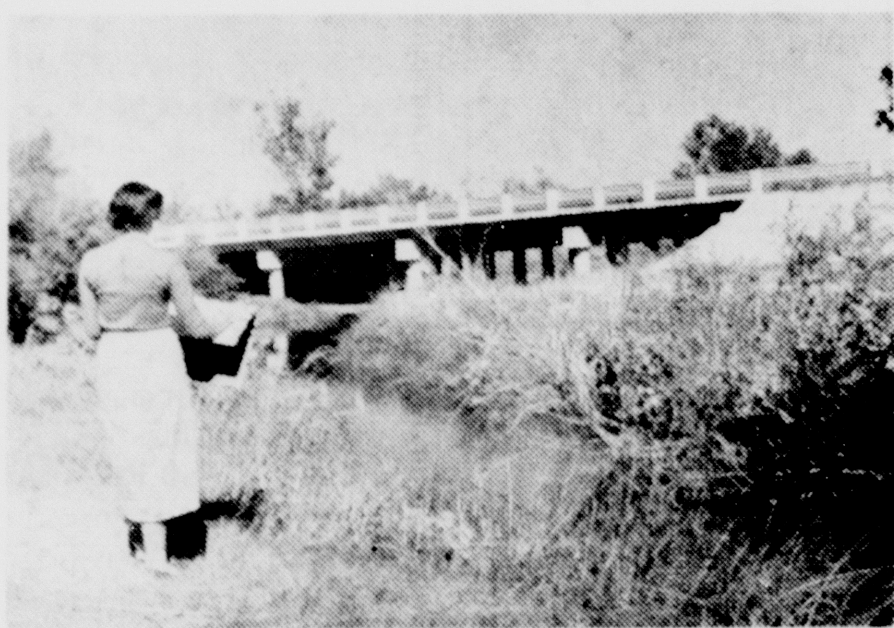

Should we dispense with progress because of inconvenience? Evidently there are those who would say yes. The opinion of at least one person was given to the foreman of the construction job at M. E. Moses 5 and 10 cent store. This person was definitely against progress at the price of convenience.

While work is going on to expand the building and at the same time make it more attractive, a small, narrow walk has been constructed about the front of the building. This is to provide a walk for the pedestrians so they won't have to step out in the street. In all, the makeshift sidewalk probably causes a person 4 additional steps in walking by the building. These few steps were too much for one person who voiced complaints to the foreman of the job.

Oh well, perhaps progress is too much trouble. Maybe the best thing we could do would be to make like Rip Van Winkle and find ourselves a nice tree and take a 20 year nap.

Art Class' 'Picnic' Turns Out To Be Fun, But It's Work, Too

Have you seen any students dressed for a picnic, that leave early enough for a picnic, go to a favorite picnic spot and tolerate picnic beasts like ants and flies—but aren't on a picnic at all? Well, those are art students—you can tell by the charcoal marks on their faces and the big drawing boards they carry.

Some of these art field trips have caused considerable excitement to the weary artists such as the day Joyce Burton and Gwynith Baker, two freshman art students from Darrouzett, were perched on the rim of a canyon sketching. Isabel Robinson, the teacher, had gone around to all the students criticizing and helping them with their work then she decided it was time to leave. They left. Every one left, but the two girls.

So Joyce and Gwynith packed up their equipment, took off, and hiked to the gate. There they asked the guard, "What happened to the party of art students?" The guard looked blank. They tried again, "Where are the art students, did they all leave?" Another blank look! Finally

Just Between You, Me, and The Gatepost

Throw out the welcome mat, open up the doors for the man who recently side-swiped culture in Boston. Cecil Massey is home. Yes, he had a nice trip and enjoyed it very much but he's glad, we hope, to be home and get back to work with good old Texas people who really eat beans, but never brag about it.

Homecoming this year is going to place this community smack in the public eye, for a few days at least. There'll be floats coming through town in a colorful parade. Band music will give the atmosphere a lift of sparkling gaiety and everyone for miles around will be here to enjoy the barbecue and festivities. For occasions such as this the need for a modern hotel and a radio station is really great.

Last week when the Canyon delegation was in Austin to arrange for having the underpass north of town widened, an attempt was made to see Governor Allan Shivers. The governor was out of town so the local men left him a note. As you have already heard, Shivers has been invited to Canyon next January for the Chamber of Commerce Banquet. Those making the trip to Austin were: Andy Walsh, Burney Slack, Cliff Milnar, W. W. Sternberg and G. B. Heath.

You hear about an officer of the law complimenting another cop just about as often as you hear about one old maid giving up a boy friend to another old maid. That's why it's news when John King says that Sheriff Cantrell is one of the most efficient men in the business. It seems that Cantrell makes late calls himself instead of sending his deputy, like most sheriffs do. In one instance Cantrell didn't take time to dress, he showed up with robe and house slippers on.

What happened when the movie stars came to town last week? Well, if you don't know you're behind the times. Business houses sort of closed shop and went out to see the show. In other instances sales people were too busy looking out of the window to wait on the few customers who straggled in and out. Some fellow complained because he couldn't get service at the City Drug. The streets were blocked and choked with cars and people so that getting through town was like threading a needle with a lariat rope. But there was a wide-awake person in front of The News office, Belle Latimer sold two autograph books.

Mrs. Jeannette Robbins is visiting her daughter in Los Lunas, New Mexico. The daughter is recuperating from a recent dog bite. Mrs. Robbins had been home only a few days from visiting her father in Alto, Texas, when she learned of her daughter's misfortune. There's something of an oddity at the home of Mrs. Robbins. This is a small female dog that has adopted a tiny kitten to raise.

If you think the weather in Texas isn't a puzzler, just take a look at the incidents during the past few weeks. Mrs. James H. Scott reported lilacs blooming at her parent's home a couple of weeks ago. At the same time lilacs were also reported to be in bloom at the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. E. McIntire. Then last week the weather was still up to her old tricks of fooling mother nature. Mrs. Cott called again to report iris blooming at the home of her parents. Mother nature may be hard to fool, but she should never underestimate the power of Pan-handle weather.

Several business offices have adopted the motto, "anything is possible if you don't care who gets the credit." There's more truth in that motto than might appear at a glance. Too many people think more of getting credit than of getting something accomplished. This attitude throws a body block into the advance of progress.

There have been many complaints, both verbal and written, about the course of action taken recently by the Chamber of Commerce. Several have voiced resentment because they were asked for donations, but claim that they never have any voice in various community functions.

The Chamber of Commerce is eager and more than willing to listen to any constructive criticism. Anyone in the community can have a voice in various functions. That is why the work clinic was held. Anyone who is interested enough to attend public meetings and offer criticism will certainly be welcomed at these gatherings. The Chamber of Commerce cannot please everyone. The men who handle the public affairs can only do what they honestly believe is the best thing for the greatest number of people. Too many people want the credit. When credit is placed below accomplishments, then and only then, can we make any progress.

Right now this community is at the crossroads where petty pride and jealousy can strip it of any appreciable progress for a century to come. The important thing is to recognize opportunity, grasp it, use it to the greatest advantage. That same opportunity will probably never present itself again. New buildings and industries are needed. If these needs are to be obtained the help and cooperation of every person in the community must be combined to work in an honest, broad minded fashion.

Rural Telephone Service Makes Progress on Plains

Prospective members of the Mid-Plains Rural Telephone Cooperative met in Tulia, October 16. A report was made that the Cooperative would cover Swisher and Randall Counties. In addition to these counties the Cooperative would also cover parts of Castro, Briscoe, Armstrong and Deaf Smith Counties. Contemplated membership is between 1400 and 1600 persons while the number already having made application is 775.

Upon signing an application for membership a person pays a fee of $5.00. In addition to this fee there's another $45.00 payment which is paid as an equity and credited to the person's capital account in the Cooperative. Adopted pay rates for this telephone service ranges from $6.50 for 1 party business telephones down to $4.50 for a multi-party, 7 or 8 parties, residence telephone.

For one party residence the rate is $5.50. The 2 party business telephone is $6.00 and the 2 party residence telephone is $5.00. The 4 party business telephone is $5.50 and the 4 party residence is $4.50. Multi-party business telephone is $5.50 and the multi-residence telephone is $4.50. Pay station guarantee is $7.00.

Additional charges on 1, 2, and 4 party service will depend upon their distance from the exchange.

The next step necessary is to have maps made showing the location of each subscriber and each prospective subscriber and ascertain the materials needed. It was also brought out that everyone who intends to have a telephone should sign a membership application and pay the $5.00 fee in order to insure a line. It was also announced that the Cooperative has negotiated for the purchase of the Kress, Texas, Telephone Exchange.

'51 Homecoming Plans Near Completion As WT Campus Teems With Activities

Over 5,000 ex-students are expected to attend Homecoming celebrations on the campus October 27, according to Dr. Lee Johnson, chairman of the Overall Steering committee.

Final plans are being shaped and last minute decisions are being made in meetings of the different sub-committees appointed by the master group.

Homecoming will begin Friday night at 7 o'clock with a bonfire and pep rally north of Conner Hall under the direction of James Gamblin.

Then, early Saturday morning honorary and social organizations will begin welcoming their exes with breakfasts, coffees, teas and smokers. At 10 o'clock the mammoth Homecoming parade will begin on 3rd Avenue at 21st Street and go west to 16th where it will turn south and wind its way around the square. Then it heads east to the campus, turning at the museum corner and disbanding near Buffalo Stadium.

Leading the parade will be Randall county sheriff and Parade Marshal M. E. Cantrell. Eighteen high school bands, a drill squad and a twirling squad from Panhandle schools will be featured. Civic organizations, business firms, social clubs and other college units will have floats in the parade, which is expected to be more than a mile long. College clubs which have not entered floats and wish to be requested to contact Wendell Cain immediately in order to be considered in competition for the prize money. Prizes are to be $15 for first, $10 for second and $5 for third in the college contest.

Registration for ex-students will begin at 8 o'clock in the hall of the Administration building and will continue until 11:30 when the barbecue dinner begins.

Fourteen beehives have been purchased and are expected to dress-out at 3,600 pounds. The Barbecue committee plans to purchase 500 pounds of beans, 500 of dried peaches, 200 of onions, 530 of bread, 40 gallons of pickles, enough coffee for thousands of gallons plus plenty of sugar to taste.

Early Friday afternoon committee members will begin to barbecue the beehives over wood collected this week by basketball players and next week by students and faculty. Wendell Altmiller, student member of the committee, will head next week's wood finding group. All students and faculty interested in helping are requested to contact Wendell or Milton Morris by Monday morning. They plan to spend Monday afternoon collecting wood for the fires.

When exes and students begin filing into the tennis courts to eat they will find the Buffalo Gals directing traffic through eight serving lines. The new service organization has volunteered to help expedite serving during the lunch period.

At 2:30 the crowning of the Football Queen will begin, followed immediately by the Homecoming game with Hardin-Simmons University, traditional foes of the Buffaloes.

During the half-time the massed guest bands will present a gridiron show under the direction of William O. Latson, Buffalo Band director.

The Class of 1926 will have their 25th anniversary during the day. They will meet at noon in the dining room of Cousins Hall and will be served barbecue. The Ex-Student's Association plans to honor each class in this way as the class' silver anniversary comes.

Several social groups will hold reunions for their respective exes immediately after the game.

At 8 o'clock two dances, one western and one modern, will begin. The western, with a western-type band, will be held in Burton Gym. The modern dancers, dancing to recorded music, will gather in Randall Ballroom. Admission to the dances will be one dollar, which will allow entrance into either at will.

Members of the various committees are as follows:

Overall Steering Committee — Lee Johnson, Chairman, Ruth Lowes, Boone McClure, Milton Morris, Virgil Henson, Mitchell Jones, W. A. Miller, Tom Langston, W. H. Juniper, Ruth Cross and Vaughn Vandergriff.

Everybody Wants to Get Into the Act

Texas' roads are going to pot.

There are exceptions. Progress is being made in the construction of farm-to-market network, designed to get the farmers out of the mud; and in the system of expressways, which are intended to get the city dweller out of the middle of traffic congestion.

The state is in trouble, however, with respect to its primary roads, 16,000 miles of them which constitute 41 per cent of the mileage under state maintenance and which carry 71 per cent of the rural traffic.

Eighteen thousand miles of these roads are over age — that is, they have been in use for more than 20 years, and highway engineers figure that the life expectancy of a highway is 20 years.

Increasing traffic is causing heavy wear on the primary road system. Government records show that generally, on a national scale, 1950 traffic passed all estimates predicted for 1950.

According to figures prepared by the State Highway Department, an additional $100 million per year would be needed to put the state road system into first-class condition by doing these things:

1. Bring the 16,000 miles of primary roads up to a standard adequate for current traffic demands.
2. Build additional expressways through cities and congested metropolitan areas.
3. Complete the farm road system as to bring pavement to or near virtually every farm and ranch in Texas.
4. Keep up daily repair and patching.

All this could be achieved in five years with an additional $100 million per year, according to the Highway Department's experts.

E. H. Thornton, Jr. of Galveston, chairman of the Highway Commission, recently pointed out that Texans pay, in highway user taxes, enough money to build an ideal road system.

The trouble is that not all this money goes for state roads. Some of the money is kept by the counties, some goes for schools, some goes for policing, some goes for retirement of the county road debt, etc.

The federal government collects a lot of highway user taxes, as does the state government.

The Texas Good Roads Association has estimated, however, that for every three dollars collected in road user taxes by the federal government in Texas, about one dollar comes back to the state in the form of federal aid for roads.

As the problem boils down, Texans have three alternatives:

1. Get additional revenue for the State Highway Department.
2. Stop diverting highway user taxes to other purposes.
3. Resign ourselves to having an inferior highway system.

The decision is one that the people are going to have to make: if they want Texas to continue having one of the best highway systems in the nation, that will be the way of it.

But they'll have to pay, in the form of taxes. Getting things from the government is just like buying things at the store. You can have whatever's available, but you'll have to pay the bill. There's no such thing as getting something for nothing.

It's a fact that some people find hard to believe.

The Creator has not thought proper to mark those in the forehead who are of stuff to make good generals. —Thomas Jefferson.
